

VOLUNTEER CODE OF CONDUCT

Work Environment

As a volunteer with FHFH, you and your fellow volunteers are all impacted by the people you work with and your environment. You represent the heart and soul of FHFH and are the essential part of carrying out our mission. You are our greatest asset. We want the work environment to be one that allows everyone to be a full partner in the mission of FHFH. It is our philosophy that we will invest in our volunteers and will work with you to ensure that you can contribute to FHFH's mission to the fullest extent of your abilities.

The FHFH organizational chart establishes lines of responsibility and authority. It is expected that employees and volunteers will coordinate and cooperate with individuals who have supervisory responsibility over them. Coordination and cooperation includes but is not limited to attendance at staff meetings, anticipating, projects, events and tasks, and to make best use of staff and volunteer time and energy.

Dress

FHFH prides itself on its informal atmosphere. We hope to provide you with a relaxed place to volunteer. This is reflected in our expectations regarding dress. Unless your job requires otherwise, FHFH maintains business casual dress. In addition, FHFH wishes to ensure that its employees and volunteers are not injured on the job. You are expected to dress in clothes that are comfortable and do not pose a safety risk. In particular, you should not wear loose-fitting clothes that could be caught in equipment. If you have long hair, you should tie it back or pin it up. At construction sites you must also wear safety equipment when appropriate, including hard hats, earplugs, back supports, gloves, safety glasses and dust masks.

Drug-Free Workplace

Drug and alcohol use are highly detrimental to the safety and productivity of staff members and volunteers in the workplace. The unlawful manufacture, possession, distribution, dispensation, transfer, purchase, sale, use, or being under the influence of alcoholic beverages or a controlled substance while on FHFH's property, while attending to business-related activities, while on duty, or while operating a vehicle or machine leased or owned by FHFH is strictly prohibited.

You may use physician-prescribed medications, provided that the use of such drugs does not adversely affect your performance or your safety or the safety of other individuals in the workplace. In keeping with FHFH's intent to provide a safe and healthy work environment, smoking is prohibited throughout FHFH workplaces and vehicles in accordance with Chapter 3497 of the Ohio Revised Code.

Violations of any part of the Drug-Free Workplace Policy are a serious offense which may result in termination from the volunteer program. This policy applies equally to employees, volunteers and visitors.

Safety

You and FHFH share the responsibility for establishing and maintaining a safe work environment. FHFH will attempt to ensure a safe work environment and to comply with federal, state, and local safety regulations. FHFH will adhere to all OSHA regulations and to the HFHI Construction Safety Manual and ReStore Safety Manual.

If you have an accident that results in injury you must report it to the Executive Director, regardless of how insignificant the injury may appear. Such reports are necessary to comply with laws and initiate insurance and workers' compensation procedures.

Safeguarding:

Firelands Habitat for Humanity is committed to the highest ethical standards and opposes all forms of exploitation and abuse. FHFH has created and maintains a work environment that is safe, productive and respectful for colleagues. FHFH must prevent and respond to physical or sexual abuse or exploitation, harassment, or bullying of the people in the communities we serve (especially vulnerable adults and children) and the people with whom we work or partner.

Internet Use:

You may utilize the Affiliate's internet including electronic mail for job related functions. Unlawful Internet usage may expose the Affiliate to significant legal liabilities. Discretion is always expected. The Affiliate insists that you respect the copyrights, software licensing rules, property rights, privacy, and prerogatives of others, just as is expected in any other business dealings.

Unlawful Harassment and Discrimination

FHFH expects all employees to behave in a way that reinforces the Christian mission and founding principles of the organization. All employees should be accorded respect and consideration and feel that FHFH provides a safe and productive workplace. FHFH, therefore, prohibits any actions or conduct that may discriminate against or harass other employees. FHFH does not tolerate any actions, words, jokes, or comments based on an individual's sex, sexual preference, race, ethnic background, age, religion, physical condition, or other legally protected characteristic. Any comments or actions which demean or are hurtful to people of a certain sex, sexual preference, race, ethnic background, age, religion or certain physical condition are prohibited. Such conduct may result in disciplinary action, up to and including immediate discharge.

Unacceptable behavior includes, but is not limited to:

- Verbal harassment or abuse with sexual, racial, religious, ethnic or similar overtones.
- Subtle pressure or unwelcome touching of an individual (e.g. patting, pinching, hugging, repeated brushing against another employee or volunteer's body).
- Requesting or demanding sexual favors accompanied by implied (by conduct or words) or overt threats concerning an individual's employment status or promises of preferential treatment.

If you feel that you have been harassed, you should speak to the Executive Director. You may be advised to file a written complaint. If so, you should file the complaint within 7 days after the event occurs. If the Executive Director receives a report of unlawful harassment, he or she must request that the FHFH Board President form an Ad Hoc Committee. The Executive Director will investigate the incident and upon a finding that the harassment has occurred, will deal with the person engaging in the harassment in accordance with FHFH's disciplinary policy. While the investigation is going on, and following the investigation, FHFH will take appropriate steps to ensure that the employee making the complaint is provided with a work environment free of harassment.

Disciplinary Procedures

Like any business or organization, FHFH needs to impose certain work rules in order to ensure that it is effective in carrying out its mission. FHFH seeks to keep its rules to the minimum based on the belief that mature employees know what conduct is expected of them. Generally, when a problem does occur we provide direct and specific guidance or discipline including reprimand, or removal from the volunteer program. The FHFH disciplinary process has five steps. Depending on the severity of the offense as judged by supervisor, an offense could move immediately to removal from the volunteer program.
